

COMMITMENT LETTER

Title of the manuscript
Author or authors

In accordance with section 1.1.5. of the Editorial Norms of the Revista Chilena de Derecho, available on its website www.revistachilenadederecho.uc.cl, the subscriber or subscribers of this letter declare their commitment to the following:

1. That the manuscript that will be submitted for consideration to the Revista Chilena de Derecho:
 - (i) follows the editorial policy of the journal and its thematic areas, that is, that the manuscript is framed within one of the following categories (select only one of the areas):

Administrative Law
Canon or Ecclesiastical Law
Civil Law
Commercial Law
Constitutional Law
Criminal Law
Environmental, Mining, and Water resources Law
Family Law
History of Law
International Law
Labour and Social Security Law
Natural Law and Philosophy of Law
Pedagogy of Law and the Legal Profession
Political Law
Procedural Law
Roman Law
Tax and Economic Law
Theory of Law
Law and technology

- (ii) is original and unpublished, and it is not partially or totally available, either in physical or digital form, and it is not pending acceptance or publication anywhere else.

In the case that the work is available in any digital medium, including, but not limited to, any presentation in seminars, conferences, sessions, etc. (whether it is available as a summary or as PowerPoint slides, whether in a preliminary or final version); drafts available in online platforms (such as Academia.edu o SSRN); opinion columns; works submitted to earn an academic degree (such as bachelor's, master's, or doctorate), etc., I declare that the only digital media in which this work is available is/are the following:

In reference to this declaration, the author(s) expressly accept that the submitted work can be analyzed using computer programs designed for that purpose (for example, "Turnitin") and that the results of such analysis will be considered in the assessment of the originality and previous availability of the text.

- (iii) is not part of a report or a legal opinion, and its content is not primarily based on a report or a legal opinion, regardless of whether the report has been presented before courts or in administrative procedures.
2. That the work will not be simultaneously submitted for consideration to other publications, whether partially or in full, to any physical or digital media, while the editorial process of the Revista Chilena de Derecho is currently pending.
 3. That the submitted work does not include any content that is being submitted to other publications as part of more extensive works, with the exception of the following:

 4. That they know and accept the terms and conditions contained in the Editorial Norms of the Revista Chilena de Derecho, as well as those included in its “Manual of Ethical Norms and Good Practices,” both of them available on the website of the journal, and that the submission is in compliance with all formal and substantive provisions contained therein.
 5. That, in particular:
 - (i) the manuscript strictly complies with the Editorial Norms, especially in relation to the formal rules pointed out in its Section “2. Norms about format and style”.
 - (ii) they know and accept the editorial process to which their manuscript will be submitted, which is described in Section 1.2 of the Editorial Norms, and that, in the case that the work is accepted for publication, they will subscribe the editorial contract referred to in Section 1.3 of the aforementioned norms.
 - (iii) They know and accept the norms about academic endogamy, as well as the prioritization criteria for the publication of manuscripts, the estimated review timings, and the rules for interpreting the editorial norms, referred to in Sections 1.7, 1.8, 1.9 and 1.10 of the Editorial Norms.

Date of signature
Signature or signatures	